

HILTON HEAD GOLF WITH A SENSE OF TRADITIONSM

Golf – a game of tradition – is finding an exciting new expression in South Carolina...in the Town of Tradition. One of the most renowned course designers, Tommy Fazio, is bringing his old-school design approach and his “hand built” attention to detail to his latest inspiration... and making Tradition its home.

Why don't you make Tradition home, too? Where else could you wrap up a satisfying round and step out of the clubhouse into the Village Square for lunch at a bistro, run a few errands or just stroll on home? Don't miss this opportunity to be among the first to experience the relaxed convenience of the Lowcountry's newest town – just minutes from Hilton Head and Savannah. Call today...or visit our website.
